Mr. Paul Perkinson has served as Upper School Head for many years, much longer than I have attended North Shore. He has not only been a wonderful friend and mentor, but an incredible administrator as well. With his departure, North Shore loses a great man. Always stay in touch wherever life takes you, and good luck in Charlottesville.

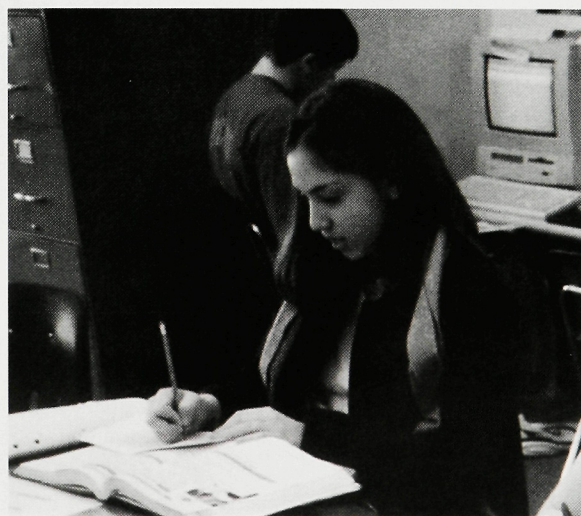

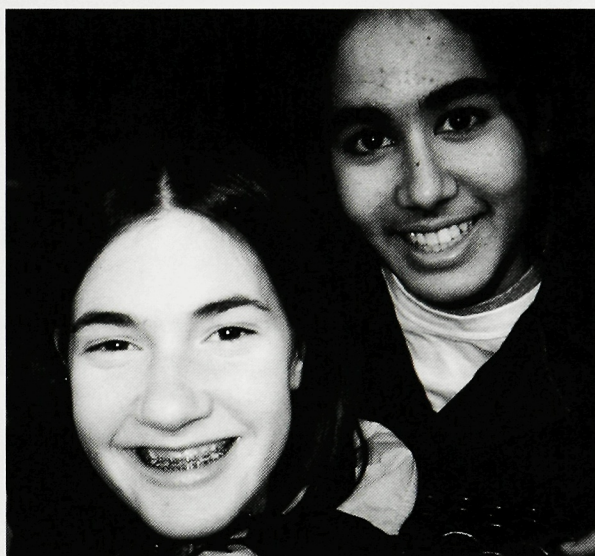

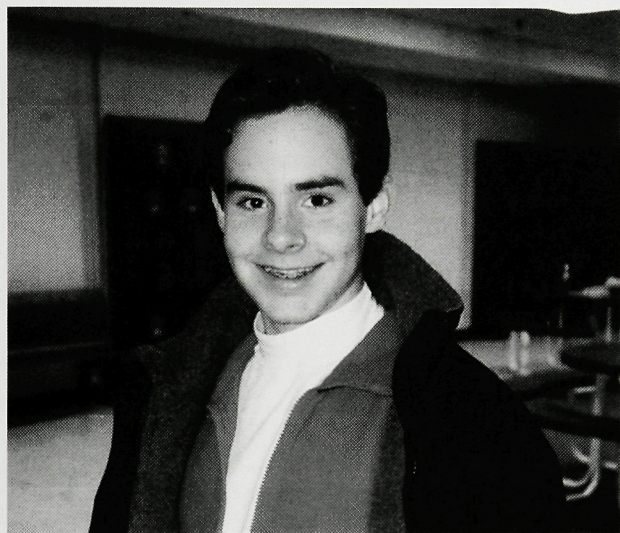

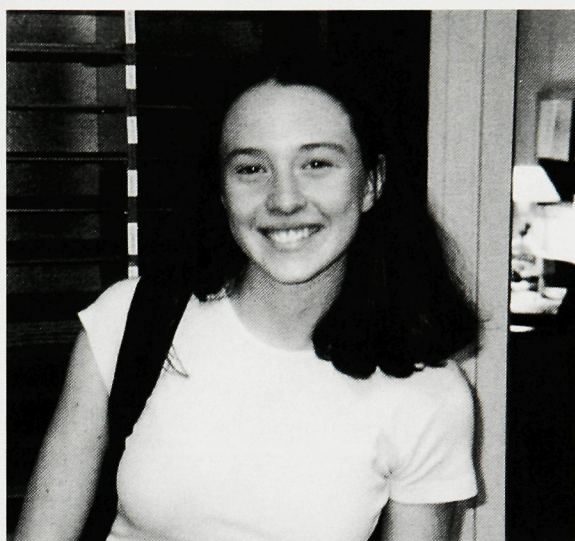

Mrs. Hall's leadership as Head of School will be greatly missed, and we all hope she will find time in between relaxing and having fun to visit us often.

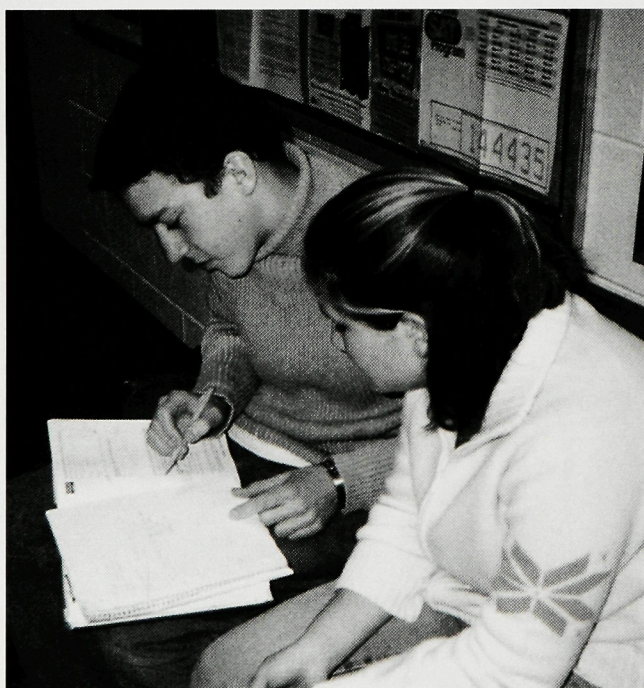

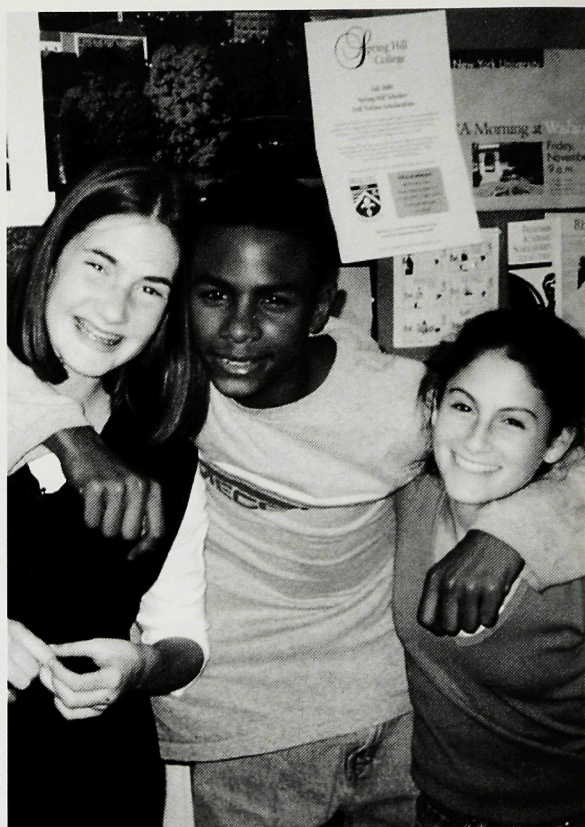

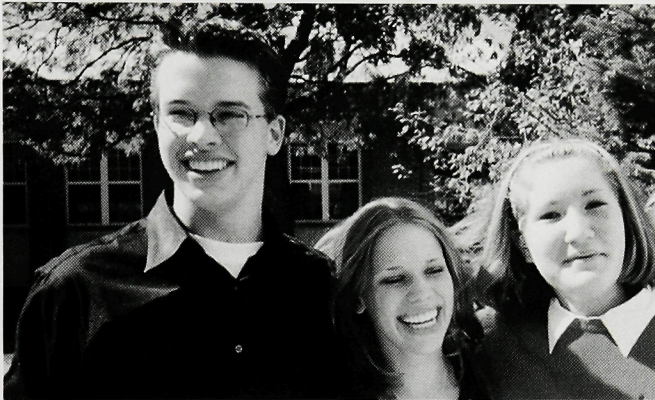

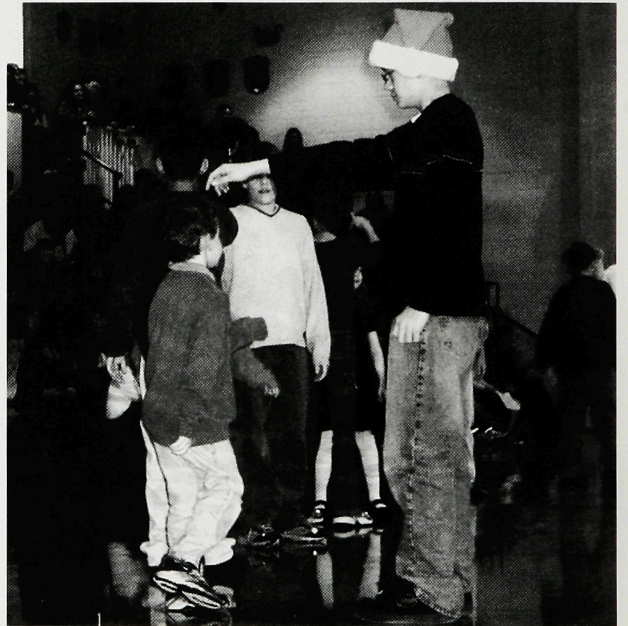

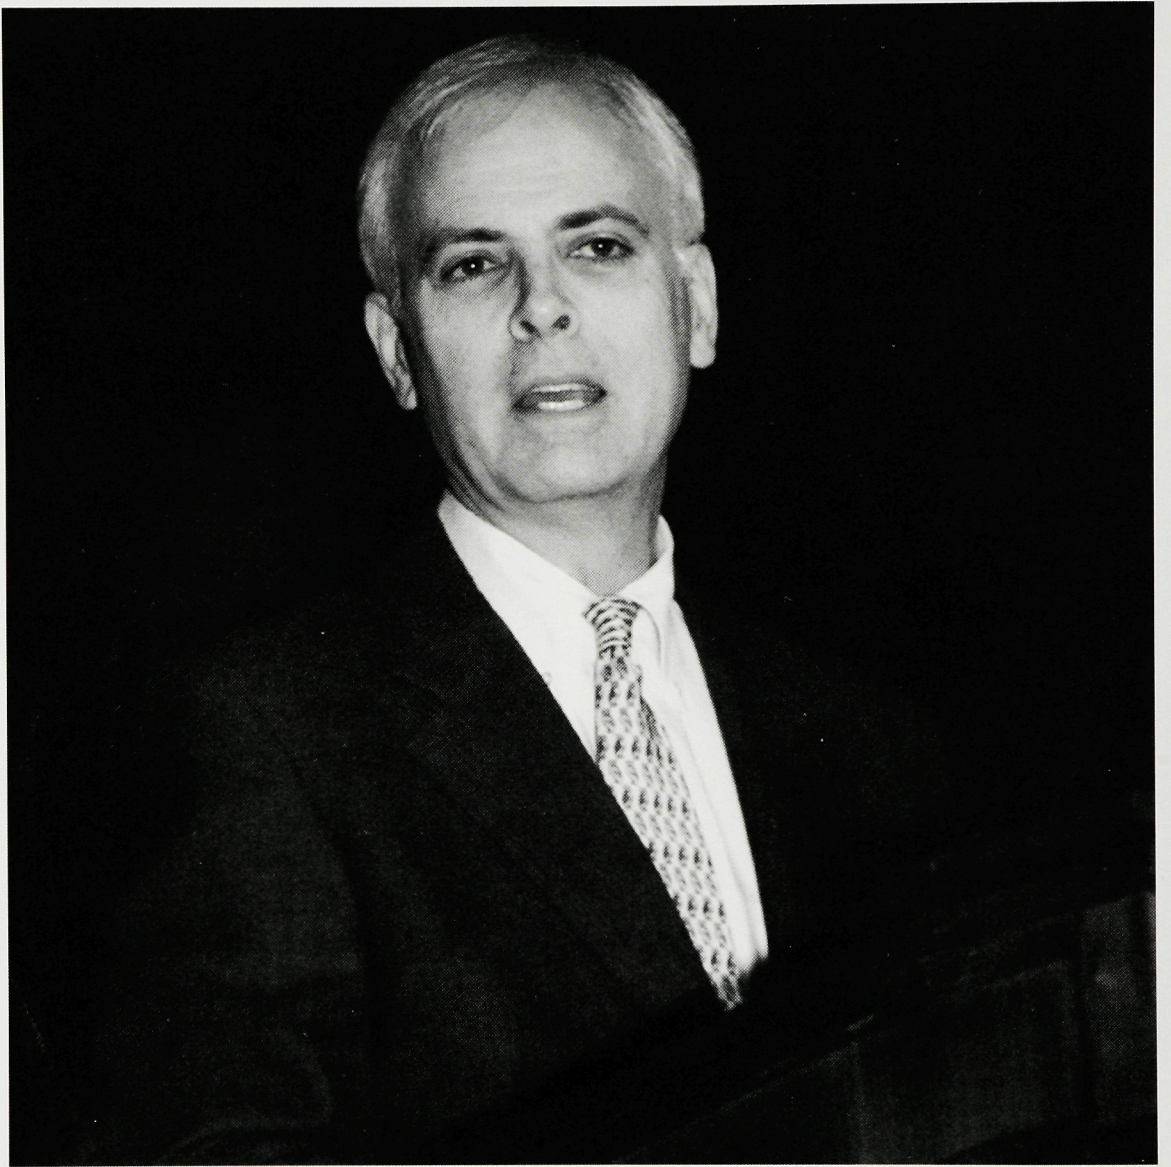

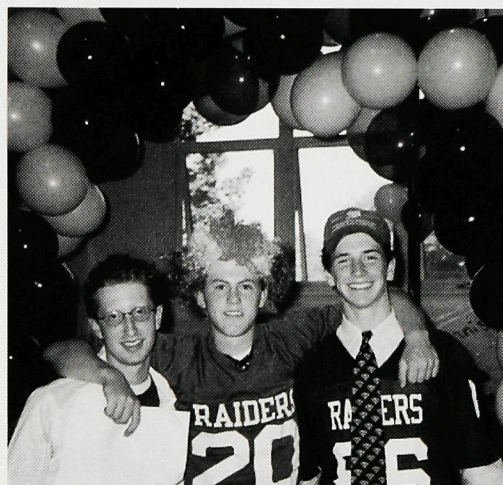

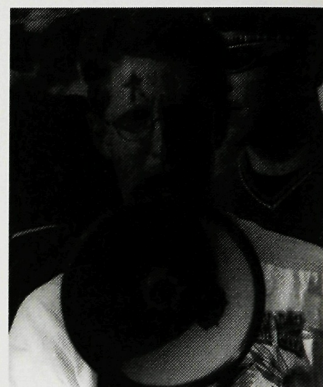

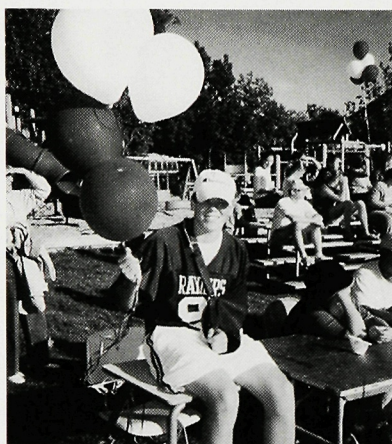

SOMETIMES WE GET SPECIAL PEOPLE...
AND WE INVITE THEM TO:

SPECIAL EVENTS

Homecoming

North Shore Homecoming was a great success this year. Not only did lots of alumni come to share the occasion, but (most of the) sports teams won!

Inherit The Wind

Boy, have fall plays at North Shore ever evolved. I'm not monkeying around. Inherit The Wind, was the best fall play in the history of North Shore. The play was carried by Justin Birnholz and Frank Cermak: two seniors who will have to relinquish the hold they have had on the stage and their audiences through their four years at North Shore. Without them, chaos will surely ensue.

Thanksgiving

What would Thanksgiving be without a Morning EX? It would just be food and football. This year on the fourth Wednesday in November, the whole school had a great celebration before the fourth Thursday in November (Thanksgiving). It was a time of celebration, where the North Shore family shared all the things that they were thankful for.

Fall Sports Banquet

Holiday Mex

The Diller Street Theatre was packed from wall to wall with students, faculty and families. Parents were on hand in great numbers to share in this special celebration. The lower schoolers enthusiastically told stories and sang songs to reflect the diverse and rich religious culture at North Shore. The holidays were upon us and this Holiday Morning Ex launched our community into a festive mood.

Mirror

What can we say, the Mirror staff is great. Look at how good looking they are. It's amazing these kids can tear themselves away from the mirror and work for the Mirror. They spend countless tedious hours slaving over slightly-delicious computers to produce this fine publication for your personal enjoyment. So, when you pass them in the halls, be sure to tell them what an incredible yearbook you now own.

This is my space to say a few words about the work that went into the yearbook you are now holding. When I accepted the position of Editor of the Mirror, I had no idea what to expect. It never once occurred to me that a 150-page book would be a LOT of work. But it was, and I did it. From the layout editor quitting in December to almost everything running late, the making of your Mirror did not go as smoothly as it could have. Yet it still managed to make it to press in fine shape. Hope you like your yearbook and good luck to whoever steps up to run the Mirror next year. See You Later North Shore!

-Julie Webb, Editor-In-Chief

The Diller Street Journal

The Diller Street Journal is the student-run newspaper at North Shore. It comes out roughly every 3-4 weeks and is read by a majority of the students. In the past year the DSJ has undergone many changes, moving from a serious newspaper to a journal that tends to take a light-hearted-look at school events and while still getting the necessary information across. The DSJ was run by the Joint Chiefs of Staff Scott Stern as Chief-Editor (Production), Adam Flint as Chief-Editor (Planning), and Alexander Chen as Chief-Editor (Content), and Talia Ullmann as Senior Section Editor.

Prosody

The school's literary publication produced another wonderful edition. The staff worked particularly hard to encourage the submission of poetry, writing, and art than ever before, making frequent and profuse announcements to that end.

US Student Council

Regardless of whether you call them the Student Council or the Students' Council, this group really works hard to improve our students' lives. As you can tell by looking at this picture, Student Council isn't just a popularity contest. I mean, look at these guys.

MS Student Council

The Middle School Student Council met every Monday during lunch. The class representatives planned the socials, spirit week, service projects, and gave suggestions on how to improve life for sixth, seventh and eighth graders. Rebecca Lockhart, as President, led the council through a successful and productive year.

This year, Upper School Chorus was the largest North Shore has seen in over a decade! Another precedent was the forming of a men's ensemble, the Diller Street Boys, and a women's ensemble, the Perfect Melody Sisters, or P.M.S. There were many chorus events throughout the year, but perhaps the most fun was the second annual jazz festival. With a dominance of lower classmen in U.S. Chorus, the seniors are not worried about the leadership of chorus in the future..

Upper School Chorus

Middle School Chorus / Band

Despite a lack of choreography, we all really liked watching the Middle School Chorus and Band. Under the leadership of Michael “conducting hands” Querio, the Middle school boys and girls all sang and played ‘til they were short of breath, and then they sang/played some more.

PILLOWS

Despite the fact that every event has a cornucopia of pillows, the name is actually an acronym which stands for Poetry In the Literary Lives of Worldly Students. The enthusiastic members did an excellent job of carrying on the tradition of years past. Students were able to express themselves in whatever way they wanted, whether it was through a poem, a song, or even a story. The school year was riddled with Pillows events, each ending with a lovely rendition of "All You Need Is Love" by the Beatles. Though the club had a very successful year, some people are still trying to figure out those weird Pillows ads which were posted around the school from time to time. Talin and Justin know a lot about Pillows, but if you want a real guitarist talk to Eric Swan.

Community Service

The Community Service Club provided more opportunities than ever before, and the student body responded by getting more involved. More weekly opportunities, monthly drives and soup kitchens resulted in great contributions all year long.

Model UN

Model United Nations (MUN) is a club filled with students that wish to further understand the United Nations. These individuals participate in discussions and debates with other schools around the country in MUN conferences. The two main conferences are held in Chicago on the University of Chicago campus and in Boston on the Harvard University campus. During these conferences, each student debates current world issues and comes to resolutions for these conflicts. The club offers students the chance to exercise their debating skills out the classroom.

Environmental Club

No this page is not printed on recycled paper, but if it was up to these people it would be. This is the group that makes the world safe for you, your children and grandchildren. These people have vision; they are making the world a better place and keeping the hole in the ozone relatively small.

US Volleyball

This year's volleyball team accomplished more than any other volleyball team has in the past 8 years. From loud music and wild dancing, to loud cheers and amazing energy, this team carried themselves to winning their first round regional game. Although they had their problems, the team pulled together and finished the season with a bang.

Upper School Field Hockey

The field hockey team was led by captains Jen Brown, Alexis Contreas, Heather Bates, and Julie Webb. The team worked well together and improved throughout the season. They reached the elite eight in the state tournament after winning two regional games. Heather Bates and Haley Birnbaum were recognized as All-State.

Upper School Soccer

The North Shore Country Day soccer team experienced a rebirth this year. Under the guidance of new coach Scott Becker the players learned a new style of soccer focused on a controlled build up from the defense. Lead by co-captains Bryan Fydryck and Conor Madigan and a very strong core of senior leadership, the soccer team set a foundation for a bright future.

US Football

!!BRING THE WOOD!!

The football team had a great year, making the playoffs and winning their first game! Seniors Tom Doar, Mike Heekin, Chris Jessen, Alex Moffat, Vince Fuentes, Teddy Heinz, Joel Blumenfeld, Sateesh Rogers, Jamie Walker, and Wes Donohoe will be greatly missed.

Upper School Girls Basketball

The Upper School girls basketball players had a challenging year that brought the team together both on and off the court. Always trying their hardest at practice and during games, this team can be commended for some crowd-stomping action and terrific wins. While captains Emily Gaud, April Figueroa, and Julie Webb will be missed next year, the younger members of the team will be more than ready to take over.

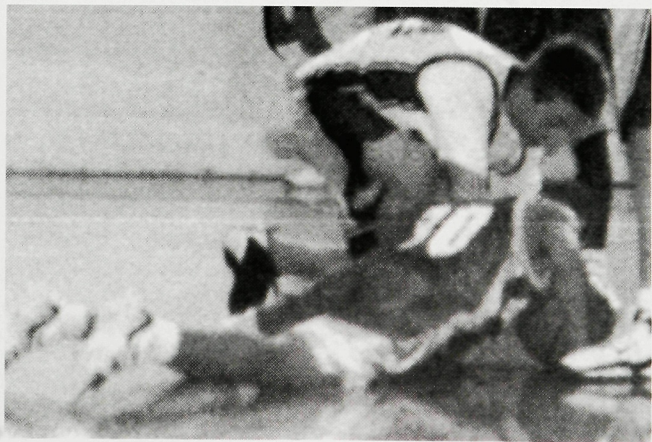

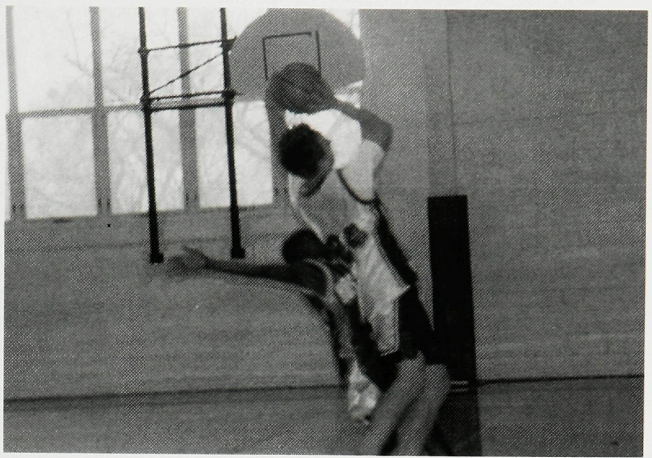

Ok...picture an orange spherical object going through a metal ring with a woven net hanging off of it. Now picture that again. And again. Picture that thirty-three thousand times, because that's about how much the Upper School Boys Basketball team scored this season. Man, it was great. You shoulda been there.

Ninth Grade

Back Row: Jeff Thomas, Ross Blumenfeld, Chad Davis, Dan Murphy, Nick Whalley, Andrew Hill; Fourth Row: Brielle Collins, Seyamack Afzali, Mirshal Vite, Justin Rheinfrank, Andy Hazlett, Jamie Vail; Third Row: Abby Smith, Gaby Jimenez, Carol Legg, Marilyn Bonilla, Steve Cooperman, Kristin Rooney, Carly Gerstman, Ross Matsuda; Second Row: Julina Castano, Henry Webster, Molly Whiteman, Henry Gaud, Aaron Morris, Dan Shatz, Will Foley, Luke Strauss, Hanah Fenley; Front Row: Charlie Doar, Michael Halper, Erica Kruger, Sara Bernstein, Laura Harris, Claire Henry, Tim Egan

The 9th graders had a great first year of high school. They overcame their original fear of all us "bigger kids" to become active and vital to upper school life. Everyone had a great time planning a dance and fulfilling requirements, both academic and athletic. The youngest generation of upper school Raiders looks forward to taking on more leadership next year.

Tenth Grade

Back Row: Matt Egan, Brad Lohmeyer, Anand Patel, Brian Jessen, Peter George, DJ Hageman, Jake Rheinfrank, Andrew Meador; Fourth Row: Eric Alexander, Jordan Fisher, Tony Zwain, Emina Duzo, Joyce Randall, Matt Ozmun; Third Row: Camilo Chimurenga, Evan Birnholz, Joe Kim, Meera Sinha, Anna Michalczyk, Emily Fitz-gerald, Jaime Powers, Robert Rex-waller, Robby Bonow, Tony Collins, Nathan Flint; Second Row: Pat Siegel, Lydia Uhlir, Christine Castilla, Michael Lehman, Mikeeya Murray, Lee Flayton, Benjy Blenner, Peter Fine, Emily Breece, Emily Yates; First Row: Lauren Segal, Kate Levine, Geoffrey Marcus, Vicki Syal, Naomi Hattori, Ciera Simmons, Kristine Offutt, Andrea Livolsi, Katie Bearman

This year we were excited not to be freshmen. We really bonded as a class when we went to the Jonquil hotel. We were happy to accept new students into our community. We look forward to being upperclassmen.

Eleventh Grade

The Junior Class has had many exciting moments this year. From completing community service projects to planning prom and pulling off all nighters for family history projects and SAT preparations, it has been a very successful year for the class of 2001. Of course, each junior is looking forward to rising in the rank of upperclassmen to being seniors next year and hopefully will continue to achieve as many, if not more fantastic accomplishments as this year!!! Great year juniors!!!

The twelfth grade was busy applying to college, keeping their grades up, and being leaders in many clubs and sports.

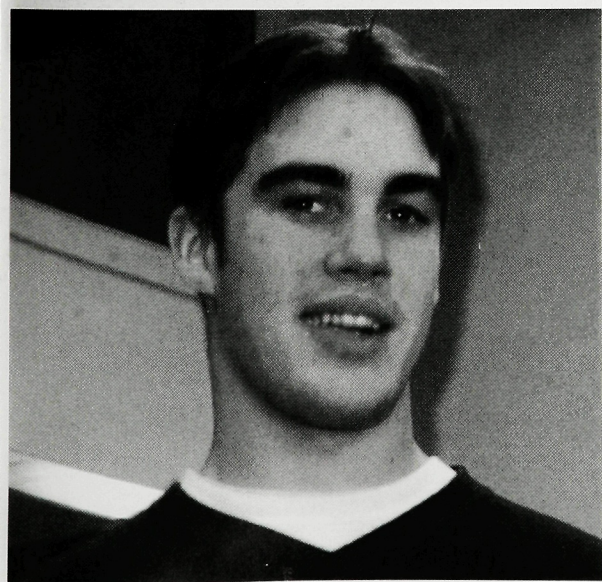

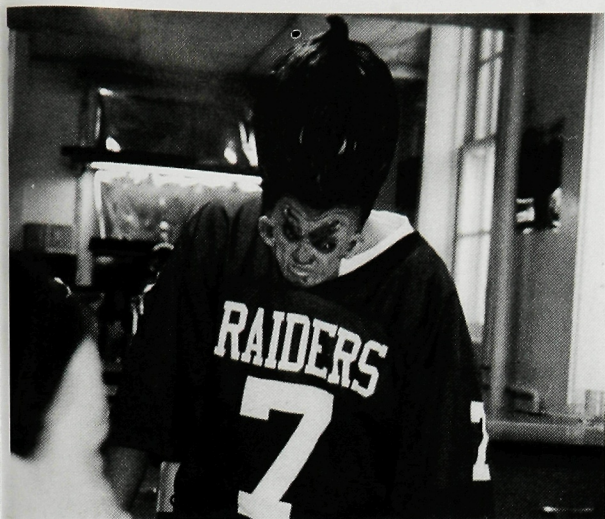

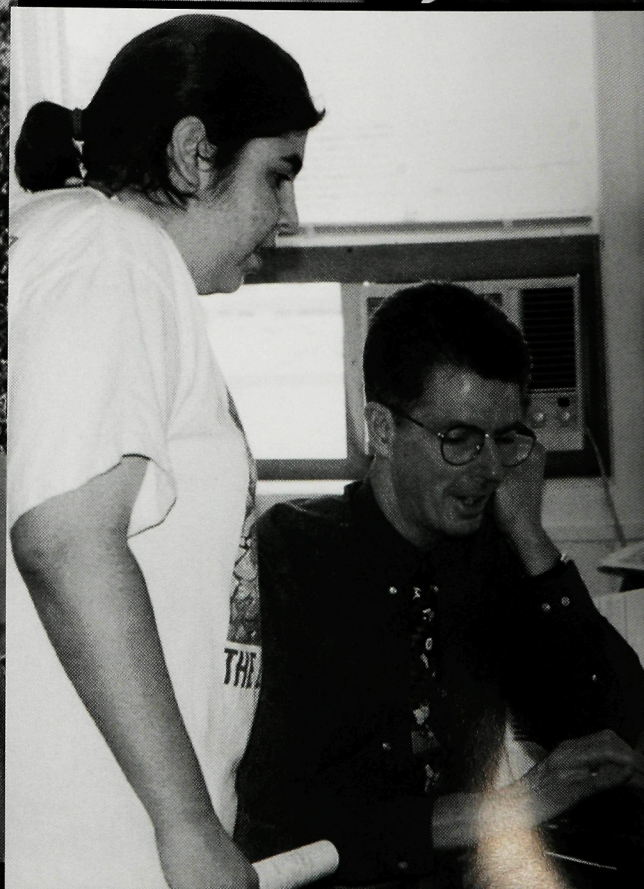

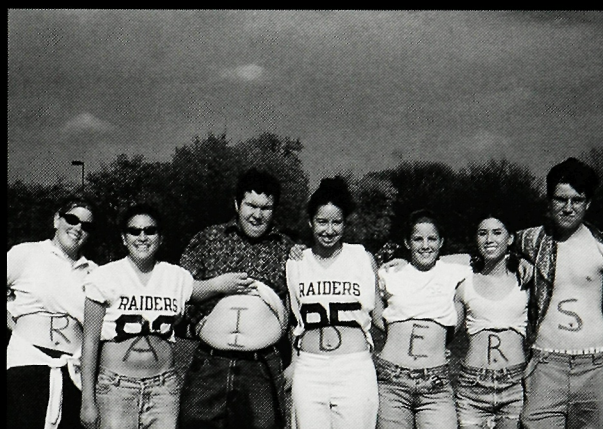

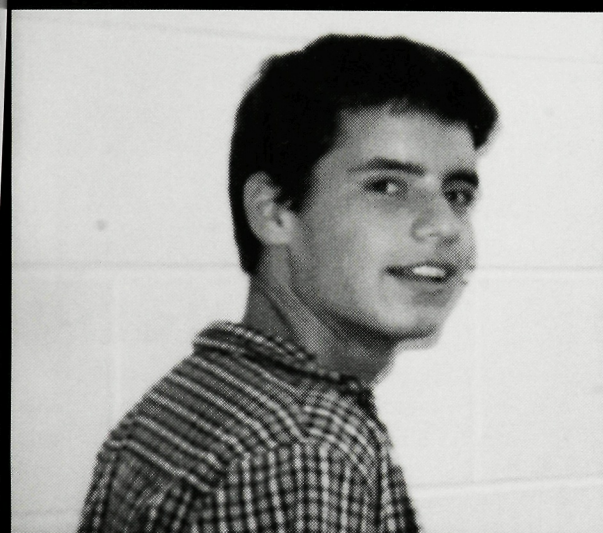

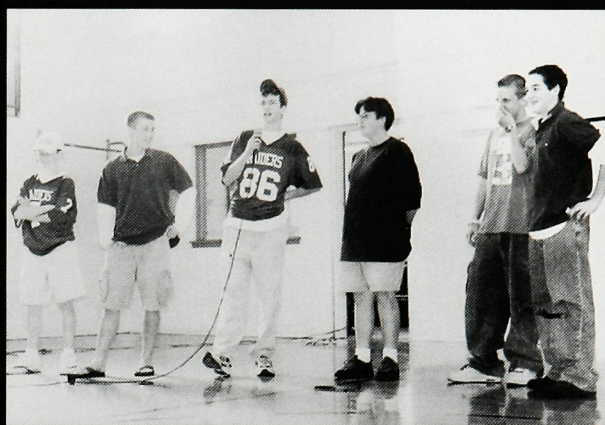

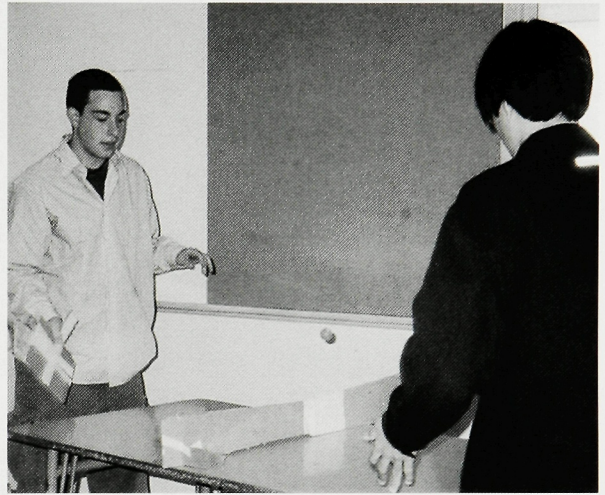

"Lifers" have been at North Shore from Junior Kindergarten all the way through Senior Year. For all the math geniuses, that means they have spent 14 years here. That's at least 2660 days, 21280 hours, 1276800 minutes, and 76608000 seconds. Just imagine how many times they've seen the same morning ex! While they are curious about the scary world outside the North Shore grounds, they are sad to leave, and surely the teachers feel some tinge of sadness to see them go.

Exchange Students And Lifers

Every year several students travel to an alien part of the world, Chicago, to further educate themselves about our culture and our language. These students take this brave step for reasons only known to them, hoping that the benefits will surpass the worries they feel. By the end of their stay in America, they have mastered another language and made friends that will last a lifetime.

Seniors Through the Ages

Dan Agnew founded the multi-billion dollar restaurant chain "Danny-Boy's Grub Shack." He then purchased Nevada.

Tashmin Ali led a long happy life being very smart and very pretty. Show off.

Heather Bates dispelled the dumb blond cliché by solving the world's most complicated mathematical theorem and saying: "Ohmygod, guys that was SO easy!"

Justin Birnholz finally gave in and admitted that he's Jewish.

Joel Blumenfeld became a model for J. Crew after being dressed by classmate April Figueroa.

Jeb Breece became CEO of Abercrombie and Fitch. He opened several thousand stores in China. There are now 1.2 billion more people wearing earth-tones and button-up shirts.

Jen Brown became a lawyer who won every case because her opponents were afraid of "ticking her off."

After graduation, Jeff Calder went off into the mountains and was never heard from again.

Frank Cermak starred in the critically acclaimed Broadway musical version of "Rocky Horror Picture Show." [shudder]

Alex Chen reported to his native Singapore for required military service after graduation. He went on to become one of the greatest military minds in the history of mankind. He led Singapore to the conquest of 2/3 of the Earth. The sun never sets on the the Singaporean empire.

Alexis Contreas had a very promising singing career ahead of her. Unfortunately, her popularity was limited because no one could pronounce her name right.

Chris Davis used his skills with a camera to become the world's most famous adult photographer. He is currently the subject of the film "The People vs. Chris Davis."

Robert De Miguel left this country and demanded that Spain declare war on "those crazy Americanos."

Tom Doar went on to have a son, W. Thomas Doar V. That is so predictable.

Wes Donohoe became a stockbroker and made a lot of money. A LOT of money.

April Figueroa became a dancer. (No, not that kind, you pervert.)

Adam Flint was ostracized for writing his own senior prophecy.

Vince Fuentes shocked the world by becoming the greatest Sumo wrestler ever.

Bryan Fydryck went on to become the most famous Jewish rapper in the history of the music industry. Then he got capped by a gentile.

Emily Gaud took women's volleyball to a new level when she became a founding player on the Chicago Spikers, the undisputed greatest team in the National Women's Volleyball League.

Mike Heekin founded the popular boy band, The Cheekins, made millions of dollars, and married Britney Spears. His career eventually died, he and Britney later hosted an infomercial for the "At Home Implant Kit."

Senior Prophecies - Direct From the Year 2000

Ted Heinz became a powerful businessman and purchased 57 companies. "HeinzCorp: 57 Varieties."

Talin Hitik made a living being the permanent replacement for a bullhorn.

Chris Jessen used his mathematics skills to join NASA and become an astronaut. He was the first man to walk on Mars, Jupiter, and Euro-Disneyland.

Ji Hoon Kim went on to become a respected microbiologist. He was awarded the Nobel Prize and was voted "Sexiest Biologist of 2015" by People Magazine.

Brandon Lieb became a computer and software tycoon. He created a high-quality computer that costs only $20. He built it for his "homies in da hood, yo."

Conor Madigan created a political revolution in which the Communist Party completely replaced the Republican Party. However, no one could really tell the difference.

Sarah Meador founded the successful chain of babysitting centers: "the Meador House." The company's motto: "Meador makes it better!"

Andy Meyer was elected President of the USA, and became a self-styled "intern pimp."

After a successful career in stand-up comedy, Alex Moffat got his own sitcom: "Moffat." It was a very popular "show about something."

Cristian Rivera became a chemical engineer and created the most powerful narcotic known to man. She does good work.

Sateesh Rogers founded the insanely popular newsmagazine "Smart." It became so profitable that he bought out all of his competitors and declared himself "Media Jesus."

Demian Scopp opened a successful nightclub for people who think they can dance really well.

Emily Smith became an elementary school teacher because: "I like the way Play-Dough smells."

Scott Stern's whereabouts are classified.

Aleksandra Strzlecki became a famous shoe designer best know for her 46 inch heel shoes.

Engineer Julia Vaughn designed a bridge across the Atlantic Ocean, however it was hardly used due to the lack of rest stops and Hardees restaurants.

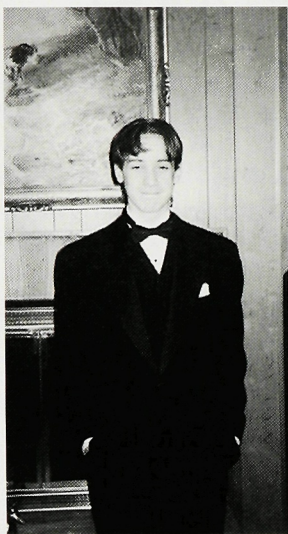

Jaime Walker joined a motorcycle gang and is currently serving time in an Arkansas State Correctional Facility.

Julie Webb wrote arguably the greatest book in history in an hour and a half, then retired.

Jess Willis became a sailing champion in his boat "Bananas." After winning the championship, he proclaimed "I like Bananas."

Buddies are cool.

If there is one thing that I have learned from all my years at North Shore, it is that community is the most important thing in the world. My experiences at North Shore have changed my life for the better by teaching me about community. Of course, it should be noted that North Shore paid me handsomely to say that in their yearbook.

To all the seniors: Thank you for making the past four years so wonderful. I couldn't have done it without each of you. From family history projects to college applications, we've been through it all together. I love you all and I will never forget you.

Mom: I couldn't do it without you.
I love you so much

I realized how only I was in my youth, but I want to say he was cut though.

Dad: you have always been my hero in my pure heart. Thank you for your support. I love you.

What glorious days there were. Through swimming I could have been reborn.

My family: I miss you so much, you know how I love you, all of you, so much.

To me it was more then just impressive; a great masterpiece by nature.

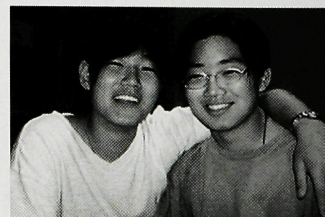

Grandpa and Grandma: You are the people who keep me able to be through all things. I love both of you.

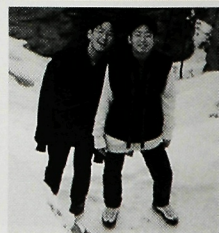

Seong: Thank you for being my coolest brother and my best friend. I guess it has been a hard time for you to struggle with me all the time. I love you so much. But I am really glad that you are my brother.

Nancy: You are the one who did make me not lose the smile on my face. I miss you.

You know I love you.

Thanks to my parents for sticking by me for 18 years. Thanks to my brother for all the good times we have had. To my grandparents Oma and Opa, Bubbie and Zadio thank you for all of your love and support. Thank you to Uncle Jimmy, Aunt Jackie for taking myself and Ross on so many exciting sporting events and excursions. Congratulations to Jason and Sandy. I hope you have many wonderful years together. Thank you to Mr. McHugh for writing such a nice letter to the Chicago Bulls and allowing me to have such a great opportunity working as a ballboy. Of course I have to thank my friends. I'm sorry I didn't include any pictures or initials, but I didn't want to forget anyone.

The Madigans have mostly been a small but strong group of people. We have strived to live and work for the future and relationships that life give us. I am the first of the Madigan family to receive an education of this caliber and to go outside of my comfort zones in order to complete my childhood development. I thank My parents and my brothers for going through life beside me and helping me through the difficult times at this school. Secondly I would like to thank the administrators of this school and all that I have had the honor to learn and live by. I would like to dedicate this page to my best friend Andrew and his family for facilitating my growth and work ethic throughout the years. He has been the foundation for my strong work ethic and my Marxist individualist morals. Lastly I would like to thank National Outdoor Leadership School and Outward Bound school for teaching me how to live in the outdoors and adapt to people and my environment.

Mom,...Relax, I am fine.

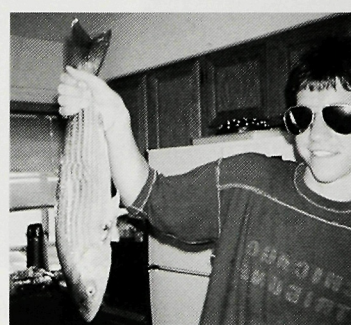

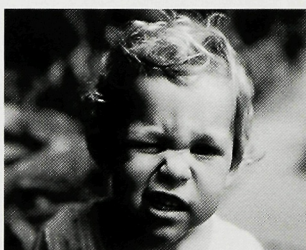

Dad, thanx for the support and talks.
